

WHAT KIND OF TEAM PLAYER ARE YOU?

RESPONDENTS (8):

JOHN Q. PUBLIC; CINDY BILLINGS; BETSY BROWN; JACK DEMBY; DAN DAVIS; CHRIS COOPER; RONALD CHALMERS; JOHN DEMAGGIO

A natural team player as far as group affiliation is concerned; be sure to include you in team activities where possible (3)

• BETSY BROWN

• JACK DEMBY

• JOHN DEMAGGIO

In general, a team player rather than an individual achiever, but nevertheless respond best to concrete incentives from you (3)

• BETSY BROWN

• CHRIS COOPER

• RONALD CHALMERS

Look to the team as a group rather than a collection of individuals (2)

• JACK DEMBY

• JOHN DEMAGGIO

Place emphasis on shared values; look for general, more abstract rewards rather than individualized incentives (2)

• JACK DEMBY

• JOHN DEMAGGIO

Sometimes tempted to do it yourself rather than look to the team, particularly where rapid action is needed (2)

• JACK DEMBY

• JOHN DEMAGGIO

Value the contribution of key individuals and look to them for support (2)

• DAN DAVIS

• CHRIS COOPER

Friendly and group-focused, as long as you have some opportunities to be or work alone (1)

• DAN DAVIS

More at ease in very small groups or working alone (1)

• RONALD CHALMERS
